

TXT4Christmas

Big Screen Cardiff, 11 December, 2010

"Loads of people are proposing to people. People are waiting to see something funny come up."

"We're waiting here for someone but it's keeping us entertained."

"I've sent around ten texts."

People had an opportunity to project their thoughts on to the Big Screen as part of a festive texting event. It was hosted by Cardiff University and Cardiff-based Art Station. Hundreds of messages were received during the two-hour event. Postings were moderated.

- "I think it's brilliant. We've been here for about an hour. We love it." (16-year-old girl)
- I think it's fun, actually. We've just had ten minutes of laugh. It's good. It makes you smile."
